

Daily Fortune Chart

A daily fortune reading will involve three different fortunes. The first fortune is related to your mind, the second is related to your physical environment or body and the last fortune is related to the forces operating in the world around you.

Directions: Solve a puzzle and get your fortune. Record you fortune in the first column titled Mind. Do two more puzzles and record the results in the column for Body and World. When all three fortunes are looked at together you will get an idea of what the Fates have in store for you today.

Check the box for by the animal icon of the fortune. Two of a kind means strong forces from that icon animal and three of a kind should indicates major influence from that force. If you should get fortunes that are the same this is an indication that this fortune influence has great impact on the day and you should be more aware of it. Three of the same fortune has a one in 320,000 chance of occurring. The laws of probability support that this might be a very powerful moment in your life.
